

Moving Ahead

Vision.Human.Work.

Sylvie
Vincent-Höper

Department of Work and
Organizational Psychology
University of Hamburg

Academic Education

- Currently completing a postdoctoral thesis (habilitation) on the interplay between health and success with a focus on leadership in organizations
- Doctoral thesis on the subject: “Health- and development promoting leadership behavior” (2012)
- Diploma in Psychology with a specialization in Work and Organizational Psychology (2007)

Professional Experience

- Research Associate at the University of Hamburg (since 2007)
- Temporary Assistant Professor in Work and Organizational Psychology at the University of Hamburg (2014-2015)
- Visiting researcher in Industrial Psychology at the Stellenbosch University, South Africa (2013)
- Visiting researcher at the Stanford Prevention Research Center (SPRC), Stanford University, USA (2011)

Research Projects

- “Leadership and employee well-being” (Institute for Statutory Accident Insurance and Prevention in the Health and Welfare Services; BGW) (since 2012)
- “Innovation and diversity” (The Federal Ministry of Education and Research; BMBF) (2012 – 2015)
- “Career advancement of women” (The Federal Ministry of Education and Research; BMBF) (2009 – 2012)

Research Areas

- Leadership and well-being
- Health and success
- Innovation at work
- Diversity at work
- Career development
- Workplace health promotion